

THE PEOPLE'S INQUIRY: EXPLORING THE CASE FOR AN INDEPENDENT AND PEACEFUL AUSTRALIA

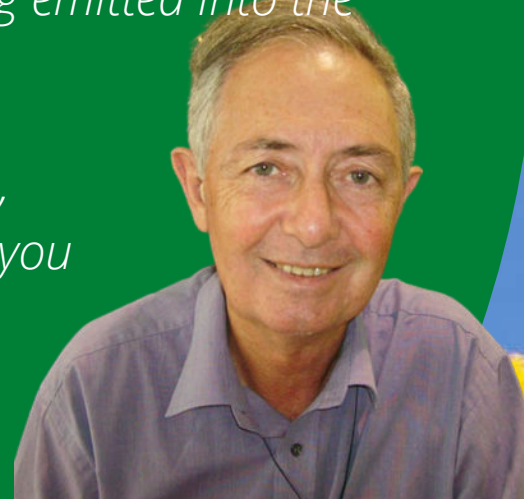

Ian Lowe - Panellist for Environment and Climate Change

"This Inquiry is incredibly important. It will provide a record of the concerns and aspirations of Australians for our future and our grandchildren's future. It will have the power to influence decision making by the community and our elected leaders.

The impact of militarism, wars and preparations for wars on the environment is very significant in itself. Equally important is the fact that the resources expended are not available for the massive effort we must all undertake to stop greenhouse gases being emitted into the atmosphere.

I have been campaigning for decades for a secure, safe and sustainable environment. I want to urge you to make a submission to this ground-breaking Inquiry."
